The Community School of Naples is offering an afterschool athletics program for current CSN students looking to ignite a love for sports, learn life lessons, and build a strong personal character. During the eight sessions, CSN students will stay active afterschool, while improving motor skills, speed, agility, focus, balance, confidence, strength, and coordination. Research proves that children who are physically active perform better in school, have stronger self-esteem, and are more productive. During the clinic sessions, students will have fun, grow, and develop individually as an athlete in addition to working with fellow members of The Community School on the importance of teamwork, sportsmanship, and what it means to be a team player through hard work, patience, and dedication.

Coach Thomas Kloss has played at the highest level of professional men's soccer (1st division, Eintracht Frankfurt) for over 15 years in Germany. He coaches the varsity boys soccer team at The Community School of Naples, has developed the boys and girls middle school programs for numerous years and currently runs a youth league. Coach Thomas Kloss is committed to making boys and girls athletes and soccer players successful.
